

My Power Partners

Working with Power Partners brings more business and maintains customer relationships.

To identify your Power Partners, list businesses or professionals who:

- are already your customers.
- you want to be your customers.
- are your suppliers.
- are in a related industry and provide complementary services or products.
- can help you offer greater value to your customer's needs.

Invite these people to your chapter. As co-members, you can support and maintain your business relationship in an ongoing manner, building and growing together.

Bonus Idea: Use part of a 30 second commercial to announce one of your ideal Power Partners. If members know someone in that category, ask them to invite that person.

My Category is: _____

My #1 ideal Power Partner is a: _____

Businesses I can Tip:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____
8. _____
9. _____
10. _____

Businesses who can Tip me:

4. _____
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____
8. _____
9. _____
10. _____

Power Partner Groups

Power Partners support, supply, and work collaboratively with your business. For instance, if you are a builder, your Power Partners generally fall into contracting categories such as plumbers, tile setters, and roofers. Other Power Partners would be lumber yards or fall into other category groups like business or financial.

When you prospect for new members, go to your Power Partners first. By bringing them into your chapter, you create a natural flow from which to give or receive Tips.

Take a few minutes and check off your ideal Power Partners.

Postcard Campaign Instructions

Simply follow the instructions and you'll grow your chapter and your Tipping opportunities.

LeTip International's new "Going Green" Seminar makes available a series of postcards which will assist you in your sponsoring effort.

The campaign is part of our ongoing integrated marketing communications effort... and includes this program to help chapters and members flourish.

The postcards are a simple and inexpensive way of communicating. These postcards have been sized to take advantage of the USPS postcard rate (28¢ each, as of 5/11/09).

For the best response rate, follow these instructions:

1. Identify one Power Partner category.

Choose only one Power Partner from the list you have developed.

2. Create a mailing list.

Find 10 names and addresses for that one Power Partner category. To create your list, use the phone book, google the internet, get the membership list from your local Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, or trade organization.

3. Get the correct name.

The more personal you can make your mail look, the better the response you will get. Personalizing your postcard with a name is very important, so if you are missing this vital piece of information, it is worth the effort to call the prospect's business and ask to whom you should direct your mail. Putting down "Dear Owner," will defeat the purpose.

4. Handwrite your message.

Today, a handwritten message is rare. That is exactly why we emphasize adding that personal touch. When you hand write a short message and hand address the postcards using your targeted list, chances are the recipient will read your message. (See the sample messages and directions included on page 9.) Be sure to add your name and either a phone number or an email address. Make it easy for a member prospect to contact you.

5. Follow Up.

About a week after the mailing, follow up with phone calls to each of the 10 prospects on your list. Ask if the recipient received your postcard and open up a dialogue. When recipients are not interested, cross them off your list. If you cannot reach a recipient on your first call, keep them on the list and continue phoning until you have an answer- either "Yes" or "No."

6. Be Consistent.

If, after contacting all the names on your list, you do not get a positive result, then send a second set of post cards to others in the same category and start the process again. When you fill your first Power Partner slot, go on to your next, most wanted target. If you stay committed, you will build a rich source of revenue for yourself and your chapter.

7. Be Patient.

Prospecting takes time, but spending a few minutes a day will reap great rewards. Repetition and method is the key. You must phone your prospects and elicit a "Yes" or "No" before sending a second set of postcards to new people in the same category. There are three different post cards in this series and all can be ordered by calling LeTip International Corporate Headquarters at 1-800-255-3847.

Grow your business and increase your chapter membership at the same time... with LeTip's New Postcard Campaign!

1 Always use a name. Hand write in blue (or different color) ink so it stands out. Write clearly.

2 Personalize your card. Make it short and sweet. (see samples).

3 Write your name & phone number or email address so you can be contacted.

4 Do not write in this area. The Post Office has restrictions and requires this area be left blank.

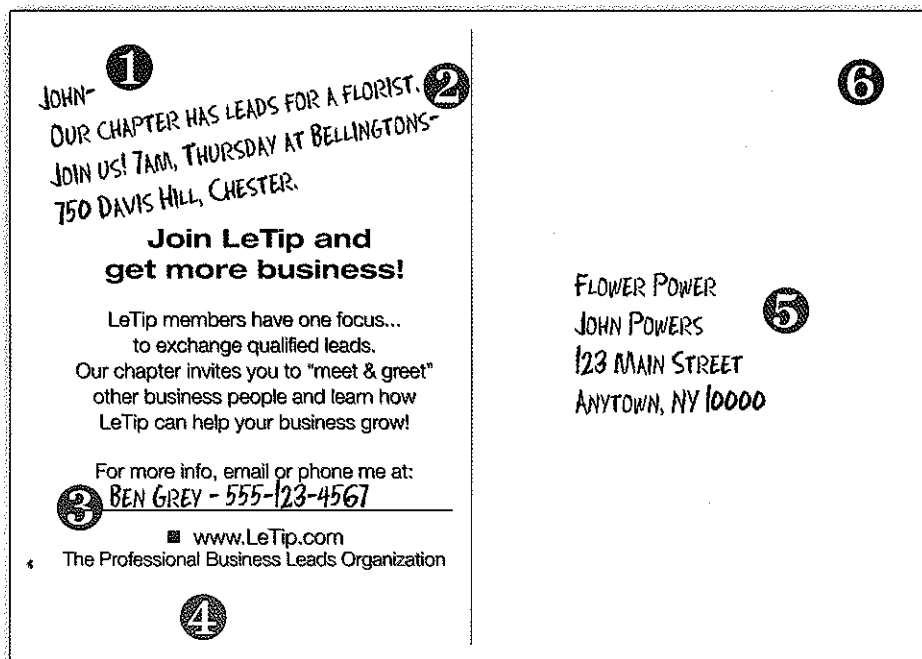

5 Handwrite addresses for best response.

6 USPS First-Class postcard rate will be 28¢ as of May 11, 2009 (Max size: 6" long by 4-1/4" high).

7 There are 3 different postcards in this campaign. Postcards can be ordered from LeTip International (800-255-3847).

Do a mailing and follow through with phone calls until you get an answer. Perseverance pays off with this kind of a campaign!
